

NOTICE TO WATER USERS.—State Engineer's Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, October 28, 1914. Notice is hereby given that the Utah Railway company, by its chief engineer, William Ashton, whose postoffice address is Salt Lake City, Utah, has made application in accordance with the requirements of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, as amended by the Session Laws of Utah, 1909 and 1911, to appropriate one-fourth (1/4) of a cubic foot of water per second from the South Fork of Gordon Creek, Carbon county, Utah. Said water will be diverted at a point which bears north 85 degrees 4 minutes west 3.779 feet from the southeast corner of Section 12, Township 14 South, Range 3 East, Salt Lake base and meridian, and conveyed by means of a pipe line for a distance of 2,400 feet, and there used from January 1 to December 31, inclusive, of each year, for general railroad purposes. After the water has been so diverted and used, the unappropriated portion will be returned to the natural channel, at a point which lies 760 feet north of the southeast corner of Section 7, Township 14 South, Range 3 East, Salt Lake base and meridian. This application is designated in the state engineer's office as No. 1402. All protests against the granting of said application, stating the reasons therefor, must be made by affidavit in duplicate, accompanied by a fee of $2.50, and filed in this office within thirty (30) days after the completion of the publication of this notice. W. D. BEVELL, State Engineer.

Date of first publication November 3, 1914, date of completion of publication December 3, 1914.

NOTICE—UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE, Salt Lake City, Utah, October 21, 1914.—To Whom It May Concern: Notice is hereby given that the state of Utah has filed in this office lists of lands, selected by the said state, under Section 8 of the act of congress, approved July 15, 1894, as indemnity school lands, viz: Serial 611216, Lot 2, NE 1/4 SW 1/4, NW 1/4 of SEC. 6, RM 1 NW 1/4, Section 11, Twp. 14 South, Range 3 East, Salt Lake meridian.

Copies of said lists, so far as they relate to said tracts by descriptive subdivisions, have been conspicuously posted in this office for inspection by any person interested and by the public generally. During the period of publication of this notice, or any time thereafter, and before final approval and certification, under departmental regulations of April 25, 1907, protests or contests against the claim of the state to any of the tracts or subdivisions hereinbefore described, on the ground that the same is more valuable for mineral than for agricultural purposes, will be received and noted for report to the general land office at Washington, D. C. Failure so to protest or contest, within the time specified, will be considered sufficient evidence of the non-mineral character of the tracts and the selections thereof, being otherwise free from objection, will be approved to the state. E. D. R. THOMPSON, Register.

CONFIDENCE

Merchants Spend Money to Gain It and Hold It

By HOLLAND.

YOUR confidence is an asset that every manufacturer of reputable goods seeks. He spends money to gain it and will take all necessary pains to retain it. Your confidence in the integrity of a manufacturer, your belief that goods bearing a certain brand are always up to standard, is one of the intangible assets known as "good will" and which is regarded by a business man as essential to his success.

Manufacturers spend millions telling you about their goods. They cannot hope to get this money back by the first transactions. They must make you a customer and keep you a customer. To do this they must make honest goods at an honest price.

This accounts for the fact that advertised goods are always of high class. It would not pay to advertise goods that will not bear rigid test.

ADVERTISING CREATES CONFIDENCE

Then the manufacturer depends on the quality of his product to still further advertise it and still further increase the customer's confidence.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER AIDS THE BELGIANS

MILLIONS FOR THE STARVING NON-COMBATANTS.

Immense Resources of the Foundation Fund Will Be Used for Purchase of Food Supplies and Chartering of Neutral Vessels.

The Rockefeller Foundation has determined to employ its immense resources for the relief of non-combatants in the countries afflicted by the war and stands ready to give "millions of dollars if necessary" for the purpose. This announcement was made Sunday by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., president of the foundation.

In pursuance of this philanthropic, the foundation will send a commission to Europe in a few days to report first hand as to how, when and where aid can be rendered most effectively. At a cost of $275,000, it already has chartered a ship and loaded it with 1000 tons of provisions for the relief of the starving Belgians.

"This action is taken," Mr. Rockefeller says, "as a natural step in fulfilling the chartered purposes of the foundation, namely, to promote the well-being of mankind throughout the world."

First Ship Sailed Tuesday.

The ship is the Mamsequa, the largest neutral vessel now in New York harbor, and it sailed Tuesday morning direct for Rotterdam with a certification from the British consul at New York that its cargo is destined for the use of Belgian non-combatants only and should not be delayed in transit. The supplies are consigned to the American consul at Rotterdam and will be distributed by the Belgian relief commission.

Mr. Rockefeller has been in communication with Ambassador Page at London and made public a cablegram in which the ambassador describes the dire need of the Belgians and says that "it will require a million dollars a month for seven or eight months to prevent starvation."

Many Will Starve.

"In fact," the ambassador said, "many will starve now before food can reach them." He added that the British government forbids the export of food and that none can be bought on the continent.

It was in response to this urgent message and a similar one from H. C. Hoover of the American relief committee in London that the foundation decided to send a relief ship "at the earliest possible moment."

Mr. Rockefeller makes clear in his announcement that whatever steps are taken by the foundation to the administration of its relief work they will be "absolutely neutral." The commission of investigation will be headed by Wycklife Ross, director general of the international health commission, and will visit the several countries affected by the war. The announcement follows:

Will Spend Millions.

"It having become clear that one of the most terrible and appalling effects of the war will fall upon the non-combatants—those most innocent of any part in the cause or conduct of the conflict—the Rockefeller Foundation has determined to exert itself to the extent, if necessary, of millions of dollars, for the relief of non-combatants in the various countries involved.

"This action is taken as a natural step in fulfilling the chartered purposes of the foundation, namely, to promote the well-being of mankind throughout the world."

"I have written the American ambassador in London that we foresee the probability that large resources will be very much needed for rehabilitation at a time when the resources now being drawn upon for immediate relief will be perhaps very nearly exhausted. Under the circumstances we feel the need of further advice."

Will Send Commission.

"In order to obtain expert opinion as to the time, place and means of rendering aid most effectively, the foundation has arranged to send to Europe within the next few days a commission which shall visit the countries affected and advise us first hand. The chairman of the commission will be Wycklife Ross, director general of the international health commission, whose successful experience in organizing the campaign against hookworm disease in various parts of the world peculiarly fits him for the task. We are also seeking to enlist the co-operation of one or two others, experienced in the administration of relief to those in need.

"The sending of such a mission will not render unnecessary the efforts of other agencies of relief, for the need is widespread and millions of people are suffering. All steps which the Rockefeller Foundation takes will, of course, be absolutely neutral.

Large Ship Chartered.

"To avoid delay and to provide relief at the earliest possible moment for the suffering people of Belgium, the foundation has chartered the largest neutral ship available in New York harbor and purchased a full cargo of supplies to be dispatched immediately.

"This action will not supplement the public-spirited efforts of the Belgian relief committee, of which Robert W. Inghelbrecht is chairman. That the necessity is vital and worthy of the heartiest support is indicated by the following cablegram which, in reply to inquiries, we have received from Mr. Page, the American ambassador at London:

"Belgium is on the verge of starvation. I emphatically regard it most opportune to help. I have never known such a case of need. Committees to distribute food consist of prominent Americans here and influential Belgians in Belgium and American ministers and consuls in Belgium, all under my direction. British government forbids export of food, and no food can be bought on continent. Help needed is food and clothing for women and children.

Million a Month.

"It will require a million dollars a month for seven or eight months to prevent starvation. In fact, many will starve now before food can reach them. No food can be bought and exported from any country in Europe. Every dollar you choose will save or prolong a human life, if you can give it quickly enough. No other time will come in any land where there can be greater need. Do not send money. Buy six parts wheat, two parts rice, two parts beans, and ship in neutral ships, consigned to American consul at Rotterdam. Inform me when you ship, and I will arrange all diplomatic requirements for landing, for transit to Belgium and for distribution in small quantities by the commission of relief, which, as a means of reaching all people, have taken over all grocery stores."

GLOWING TRIBUTE TO LATE BISHOP SPALDING

A tribute such as is seldom laid on the altar of any man's memory was given to the late Bishop Franklin R. Spalding at the Salt Lake theater Sunday. Persons of all classes, irrespective of creed, united in an impressive demonstration of the respect and admiration which the departed churchman commanded during his life in this community. The theater was filled to the top gallery and many persons stood throughout the services. The memorial address was delivered by the Right Rev. Charles D. Williams, bishop of Michigan, who spoke as a personal friend and associate of Bishop Spalding, in the house of bishops of the Episcopal church. With feeling, warmth and sincerity, as could come only from the heart, and with splendid words and magnificent thought, Bishop Williams built around the memory of his friend a frame of gold that will live long in the minds of those who heard him. He did not deny his subject, nor paint too glowing a halo about his head; rather he talked of Bishop Spalding as a man, irrespective of his ecclesiastical position, intent on living this life in the best possible manner and on helping other men to do the same. He spoke of him as one in whom the fire of life burned with a strong and constant flame, tolerant of the weakness of others, as a strong man should be, and fiercely impatient of wrongs done to others than himself.

Term Is Transposed.

Bishop Spalding, he said, had been often termed a Christian Socialist, but he desired to transpose the term to Socialist Christian, for, he argued, true Socialism is true Christianity. Socialism without Christianity, he said, was a body without a soul, and would die or lead to an even grosser evil than the one it sought to remedy, for lack of power within itself.

Bishop Spalding, in his life and his deeds on behalf of the economic betterment of his fellow men, the speaker added, sought and succeeded in infusing that necessary soul into the economic programme he advocated. That, said the speaker, was the reason Bishop Spalding's Socialism filled the public eye and won him a degree of love and admiration that no mere attention to ecclesiastical duties could have brought him. His personal Christianity was the underlying fact of his life, he said, and his Socialism was simply an expression of his Christianity. He believed in injecting the true precepts of Christ into every little act of his life, and he succeeded to a marvelous degree.

There were other speakers at the services and each paid glowing tribute to Bishop Spalding, but none moved his audience as did Bishop Williams. Many, who knew the dead bishop well, wept under the spell of eloquence. All were intensely attentive. His strong, though quiet and one could but listen.

CANCEL TWO TRAINS EAST AND WEST

New Time Card of D. & R. G. and Western Pacific Will Provide Change.

Two passenger trains between Ogden and Denver on the D. & R. G. and two between Salt Lake and San Francisco on the Western Pacific will be discontinued when the new time-tables of the roads become effective November 3. The trains that will be discontinued are D. & R. G. trains Nos. 3 and 4 and Western Pacific Nos. 3 and 4. Under the arrangement only two through trains will be operated daily over the Western Pacific and four through trains over the D. & R. G.

To take care of the local business in the vicinity of Salt Lake the D. & R. G. has arranged to run the Mantle train between Ogden and Mantle, instead of Salt Lake and Mantle, and a local train between Thistle and Price to connect with the Mantle trains in each direction. The Western Pacific is considering the advisability of establishing a local train each way daily between Salt Lake and Winnemucca.

Despondency Due to Indigestion.

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowser, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.—Advt.

COAL LANDS REVERT TO THE GOVERNMENT

AMERICAN SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY DISGORGES.

Millions of Dollars Worth of Coal Land Goes Back to Uncle Sam—In Addition Company Must Pay Eight Cents a Ton For Coal Mined.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The department of justice tonight announced an agreement with the American Smelting and Refining company whereby several thousand acres of coal lands in Colorado, alleged to have been illegally obtained years ago through dummies, will be restored to the government.

The lands are a part of a 2214-acre tract near the town of Aguilar, and part of 1249 acres at Cokedale. They are estimated to be worth millions of dollars. The smelting company will retain title to about 220 acres near Cokedale, where it has ovens. This tract will be paid for on a geological survey estimate. About 220 acres will be retained near Aguilar, which are subject to lease by the Victor American Fuel company. The government, however, will succeed to the rights of the lessee and will collect the royalties to fall due under the lease.

In addition to this restoration of the land, the smelting company will pay to the United States a cents per ton for all coal heretofore extracted from these fields. A rough estimate places the amount due on this account at between $90,000 and $100,000. Efforts to recover title to these lands have been under way in the courts for some time. The department announced that the management of the company "not in control when the transactions occurred," proposed an adjustment.

In fairness to the company," said the department, "it should be added that since the time of the settlement was first broached, it has afforded to the agents of the government, full access to the properties in question and to its records of mining operations."
